Headline:
Unsettled, wet and windy at times.

Today:
Cloudy with outbreaks of rain this morning. Rain may be heavy at times but will tend to ease toward midday. Showers remain possible, but with generally drier conditions and some cloud breaks developing into the afternoon. Rather windy. Maximum temperature 16 deg C (61 deg F).

Tonight:
Showers continuing this evening, these likely merging into longer spells of rain and becoming heavy for a time overnight. Winds easing. Minimum temperature 7 deg C (45 deg F).

Friday:
Early heavy rain clearing to a brighter day. Blustery showers will continue to push in from the west through the day, these perhaps briefly heavy at times. Feeling cool. Maximum temperature 13 deg C (55 deg F).

Outlook for Saturday to Monday:
An unsettled spell with heavy rain and near gales possible Saturday. Turning mostly showery from Sunday, these sometimes heavy or thundery. Winds remaining strong Sunday but easing Monday.
